STATUS OF REALIGNMENT

We have approximately 70 PRCS cases, which is close to the projections. We had our first two one year successful completions, although one of those committed a new offense just days after closure. There have been fewer PRCS revocations than expected and it could be attributed to probation's consistent contact with the offenders.

The DA likes the split sentences due to supervision in the community once released from Local Prison. Probation and NCDC are beginning to look at programming for long-term commitments.

DISCUSSION OF NEW JAIL POPULATION PROJECTIONS AND SITE OPTIONS

(Handouts Provided) Language in the handout from the October 4, 2012 meeting was revised after discussion about the use of the term Evidence Based Practices. Projections were revised in 2011 after passage of realignment and again after 8 months of experience in realignment. Current projections were calculated under three different scenarios: "high end", "mid-range" and "lower-range". Three options to build a new jail have been analyzed and provided in a handout. First would be to demolish the Hall of Justice and existing Jail and rebuild in the same space. However, it would be quite costly just to demolish the existing buildings. Also, some inmates would need to be housed in alternative locations during parts of construction. Options two and three consist of building a new jail and community corrections center out of downtown. Cost of demolishing the existing jail could be deferred and there could be use of holding cells for In Custody hearings occurring downtown. Concerns and issues affecting other agencies include transportation time of law enforcement and attorneys as well as court calendar processes. It is suggested video arraignments and motions could be used to help alleviate transport time and costs. It is recommended we move to go to the Board on November 13, 2012, with the mid-range projection of a 366 bed jail with expansion to 526 beds (New Jail Option 2).

CDCR/3 JUDGE PANEL RULING UPDATE

CDCR is required to meet the 137.5% capacity rate the original June 2013 date, with an extension to December 2013. CDCR is preparing a list of early releases although they do not believe it is a viable plan. They will request up to 145% capacity, although they do not expect it to be approved.

REPORT FROM ADHOC COMMITTEES

The Program/Alternative Sanctions Committee is prepared to make a proposal to the State within the next few weeks. The proposal will be brought to this committee to review.

The Law Enforcement Committee met as Probation will be ready to put probation officers on-call during off hours once they are trained on GPS device and site use. Implementation of on call PO's will commence at the end of November.
